Dear Member,

SUPPLEMENTARY NEWSLETTER CONCERNING ESPD ANNUAL SCIENTIFIC MEETING, MADRID, 9th OCTOBER 2019 AND ASSOCIATED BIODERMA AWARDS

Our next ESPD Scientific Meeting, the 20th Annual Photodermatology Day will take place in Madrid, Spain on Wednesday 9th October 2019, 1.30 pm to 5.30 pm at the IFEMA, Feria de Madrid, Avda del Partenon, 5, 28042 Madrid, Room Coello. Enclosed the scientific programme, that will be posted on the ESPD website soon.

The event will be a Sister Society Meeting of the EADV as usual, taking place during the afternoon before the EADV proper begins. For this, the EADV Congress organizers require that all ESPD attendees pay either the full EADV registration fee if also attending the EADV Congress, or else a much reduced fee of €180 if just attending the ESPD event.

The scientific Programme of the the 20th Annual Photodermatology Day also includes a short communication session (each presentation lasting 7 minutes plus a further 3 minutes for discussion). We encourage young fellows and researches in your Institutions or in your Country to submit an up to 250-word abstract for this session. Please use the attached format to prepare and submit your abstract. The abstract has to be sent to the ESPD secretary, Prof. Dr. Marjan Garmyn (marjan.garmyn@uzleuven.be) by Friday 5th July 2019 at the latest. If accepted for presentation by the ESPD Committee, the submission will be published in Photodermatology, Photoimmunology and Photomedicine, and the best presentation as also judged by the ESPD Committee, will receive a 1000 euro prize, very generously contributed by Bioderma.
